

DANIEL BERRIGAN

DANIEL ELLSBERG

Q. How much did it cost Father Daniel Berrigan and the other defendants at Harrisburg to defend themselves against the U.S.? How much will it cost Daniel Ellsberg and Tony Russo to defend themselves? How much does it cost the government to prosecute these cases?—Ron Miller, Berkeley, Calif.

A. The Father Berrigan defense came to $600,000. The Ellsberg-Russo defense will cost approximately the same. No one knows exactly how much it costs the government to prosecute these cases. A safe estimate is three times the cost of the defense.

Q. What happened to that $500,000 action against Liza Minnelli? She was accused of enticing a band drummer and breaking up his marriage.—Anne Craig, Dallas, Tex.

A. Mrs. Margaret Kulbeth of Houston, Tex., wife of Rex Kulbeth who played with the Bojangles musical group under the name of Rex Kramer, accused Liza Minnelli of enticing Rex to leave her. Miss Minnelli originally denied the allegations of the alienation of affection action. Several weeks ago, however, her attorneys quietly settled the suit out of court.

Q. Three years ago in Washington, D.C., Henry Kissinger told Quaker representatives: "Give us six months. If we haven't ended the war then, you can come back and tear down the fence." How come Kissinger has been so wrong about the war?—Robert Dolan, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

A. Kissinger has tried but has consistently failed to understand the North Vietnamese mind.

Q. Why did the FBI "bug" football star Joe Namath's sex life?—M.N., New Rochelle, N.Y.

A. The FBI never bugged Joe Namath's sex life. At one point Namath's business associates were under FBI surveillance. In the course of that surveillance Namath and his friendship with an airline hostess came under review. The FBI, as an investigational agency, believes in gathering more material than less.

parade
THE SUNDAY
NEWSPAPER MAGAZINE

AUGUST 6, 1972